Phone Emergency Call Down
After having InfoPathways review our current phone system, there is no option for calls to be placed in a queue while a group of people are ringed. For this type of set up we would need either a local phone controller to be setup or to move to a VoIP system that can be hosted by a third party vendor. The local phone controller has a greater upfront cost and normally includes a yearly service and support plan, where going with a hosted solution we would only be billed per month. As an alternative, they also mentioned if we are still interested in the possibility of bartering for space on our water tower for their broadband services, an agreement could be worked out to piggyback on InfoPathways phone system.
